Please join us for a one-day, in-person conference to showcase the vital role of community science in understanding and protecting NJ waters.

The Summit will bring together monitoring program coordinators, researchers, agency professionals, and other stakeholders to:

- Present community-collected data and findings
- Share unique approaches to monitoring, volunteer training, data management, or community engagement
- Demonstrate how data has informed decision-makers or led to actions to protect and/or improve water quality
- Poster abstracts will be accepted until the Summit - click to submit!
